Making a legacy gift to United Way Greater Toronto is a powerful way to show your commitment to your community and a vision for the future you wish to build.

By making a gift in will, you are sharing the values you hold dear with those who will remember and celebrate your life's legacy in the years to come.

Together with your loved ones, talk to your advisors to create or update your will in the way that is best for you.

A legacy for community

With your promise, you are acknowledging the issues that deeply impact our community and ensuring we can continue to address them. Your legacy will help ensure that the basics that foster well-being and belonging—safe housing; stable income and employment; local services, recreation and opportunities for community engagement—are accessible to everyone. It will fuel the structural and systemic change needed so that our neighbourhoods can nurture a brighter future for all.

“When I recently updated my will, I decided to give to United Way because it funds so many important issues and organizations. It has made a deep impact in communities for over five decades, and I fully expect that it will make good decisions about how the money is used—for decades to come.”

—Connie Reeve, United Way donor
